Discover astrology with the Little Crab and his star-guided adventures!

The Little Crab Finds a Friend series are beautifully illustrated picture books for ages 3-6 that introduce children to astrology by discovering (mostly in rhyme) the themes of each of the twelve zodiac signs.

From the story to the parenting guide, each book welcomes parents and teachers to explore astrology as a teaching tool for kids while offering a cosmic lens for them to support their child's unique attributes.

In book three, Roaming the Taurus Plains in Quest for the Golden Grains, Little Crab is lost among towering wheat on the Taurus plains until he meets Ed, a determined bull searching for the golden grains. Using Crab's map and Ed's compass, the unlikely pair journey together—discovering the beauty of the plains and the power of sharing, kindness, and helping others.

About the Author

David Bensimon is a children's author and practicing astrologer whose stories explore self-discovery, individuality, and the magic of understanding others. Through his imaginative stories, inspired by his passion for astrology, he hopes to help young readers celebrate what makes them unique while appreciating the differences in others. David lives in Redondo Beach, California, with his wife Lindsey, with whom he paints the world with magic and laughter.
